Launched as a partnership between Strategic Community Partners and the Marygrove Conservancy with financial support from the Kresge Foundation, the Community Impact Incubator provides capacity building support and facilities to a cohort of nonprofits organizations during a 12-month incubator experience. This opportunity creates an environment for the participating organizations to develop their missions and further scale their service to children and families in Detroit’s Fitzgerald neighborhood.

In addition to monthly programming sessions focused on strategic planning, financial management, talent development, and other organizational leadership topics, participating organizations also receive a suite of resources to help scale their work:

- One year of subsidized rent
- Monthly meetings with a community of practice cohort
- One-on-one mentor matching
- Technical assistance and support
- Professional development workshops and training
Detroit City Lions Youth Club

Detroit City Lions Youth Club helps at-risk youth develop healthy bodies and minds. Children aged 3 to 15 can participate in sports programs such as football, soccer, basketball, swim, dance, lacrosse, and more. Detroit City Lions also provides tutoring and mentoring services, STEM programming, leadership development, financial literacy, youth employment, and wraparound services for families.

Detroit Phoenix Center

Detroit Phoenix Center is a low-barrier resource center for young people between the ages of 13 and 24 who are experiencing housing insecurity. Homeless and high-risk youth can drop in to take a shower, access laundry services, receive meals or other basic need items. The center also offers career readiness, life skills, and educational workshops, as well as a computer lab for schoolwork or job searching.

Detroit Youth Choir and Performing Arts Company

Detroit Youth Choir and Performing Arts Company offers the youth of Detroit a performing arts experience to develop creative skills and talents through music education, dance, and theater.

JOURNi

JOURNi is dedicated to building an inclusive technology ecosystem in Detroit, equipping individuals with the education and skills to jumpstart their careers and thrive in the local economy. JOURNi provides immersive courses and youth-centered programming in technology and entrepreneurship.

Pure Heart Foundation

Pure Heart Foundation aims to empower and embrace children of incarcerated parents to help break the cycle of generational incarceration. Children enrolled in the Pure Heart program receive access to mental health care and counseling, mentorship, academic support, and recreational activities.

LEADERSHIP REFLECTIONS

The 2020-2021 Community Impact Incubator cohort features five nonprofits founded by Black leaders. The resources and opportunities provided through the program not only strengthen the organizations' development, they also support these passionate Black leaders and provide opportunities for their continued profession and personal growth.

“Being apart of the Incubator has been an eye opening experience, however it has given our organization a place to grow, a safe environment, the incubator has brought our organization back down to earth from the cloud that we were on. The incubator has brought office space, rehearsal space, dignity and pride to our organization. As a Black leader in our community it’s been amazing.”

Anthony White
Artistic Director, Detroit Youth Choir and Performing Arts Company

“As a Black leader, being apart of the Community Impact Incubator has allowed me to be in a space with other leaders who understand the challenges of navigating the nonprofit sector and glean resources, knowledge and support. Additionally, the learning opportunities have helped me moved my organization forward, in the areas of capacity building and reimagining service delivery. I've also been challenged through this process to lean more on my team so I can grow as an executive leader.”

Courtney Smith
Founder and CEO, Detroit Phoenix Center

“Participating in the program had meant the world to me, where I can not put a value on the opportunity. The opportunity is priceless. To be afforded the opportunity to to learn from industry experts that look like me, come from similar places and have likeminded missions and visions are priceless. To be apart of a legacy is huge, but to be developed as a Black leader is something else.”

Devon Buskin
Founder and President, Detroit City Lions Youth Club

“It's meant a lot to be supported and re-affirmed on things related to my org. Sometimes in the past I haven't necessarily known how I was doing.”

Richard Grundy
Co-Founder, JOURNi

“As a Black leader apart of the first cohort in the Community Impact Incubator not only did, I feel honored, I felt seen. It is obvious that oftentimes Black leaders aren't recognized, and unfortunately, we are not recognized by our own people. To be selected by other Black leaders and for the impact work we do at Pure Heart to one of the powerful five made me incredibly happy knowing that our purpose carries value and influence.”
